The Philadelphia Leger says: "It is high time the ablest medical men in the army, who have had experience of the southern climate, should be entrusted with the duties that should be performed to save soldiers from exposure, and to consider, in every way, the dangers which will soon be upon them. Abundant stores of ice should be secured as one of the chief requisites."

A monster concert, called "The Handel Triennial Festival," is to be given on the 11th instant at the Sydenham Crystal Palace, near London. The number of performers will be 4,000, consisting of the best musical talent in Europe, and it is estimated that it will be attended by over 250,000 persons. The performances will extend over several days.

The New Orleans Crescent says: "The steamship America, outward bound with a cargo of 1,300 boxes of cotton unshipped, as well as other freight, to the Yankees, however, did not obtain the coveted vessel and cargo. Finding the blockade tolerably effectual at the mouth of the river, the Americans put back and came in contact with a snag below the forts, and surrendered to the arms of old Father Mississippi."

The Hartford Times says that while the convention which nominated the Democratic ticket of Government was in session, a dispatch announced Burnside's victory was handed to the president. He perused it with a face as solemn as if it had announced the death of a friend, and it was not read to the convention!

The English painter Fritsch's new work is called "The Railway Station," and he receives $40,000 for it—bids upwards of $3,000 for the right of separate exhibition. It is the largest sum ever paid to a painter in his lifetime for a single work.

The Charleston Mercury says that since the battle between the Monitor and Virginia, it has come to be the opinion that the strength of the batteries of Fort Sumter will, within the next three months, be tested by a score of iron-shod monsters.

The Richmond Examiner learns that the expenditures of the Confederate Government are at the rate of two or three millions a day, and that there is a weekly addition of that sum.

Charles Mackay, the poet, is nowjourning at the New York Hotel. The family of Mr. Mackay now reside on Staten Island, and will probably remain there during the winter.

The sleighing in Chittenden county, Vt., up to the 10th of April, never was better. The ways are literally as broad as the fields, there is no sign of a fence to be seen anywhere, and the snow is so level over as to support the heaviest teams.

The planters of Louisiana and Texas are said to be feeding their molasses to their hogs, with the view of enlarging their pork crop. But few are planting cotton.

A Missouri—An iron gun carriage for a five hundred pounder gun, is in course of construction at the Watertown (Miss.) arsenal. It will be completed in a few days, and will weigh twenty-five tons.

An Iowa regiment has a rule, that any man who writes an oath shall read a chapter in the Bible.

THE CHINA TRADE.—The Legislature of China has passed a law levying a tax of 1000 dollars on all the Chinese in the State, miners and miners.

He was asked why he did not go to New York. "I don't," said he, "my father died, left me a good many newspapers, and I can't read them through yet."

Captain James D. Fessenden, son of Senator Fessenden, of Maine, has been appointed upon General Hunter's staff, and gone to Port Royal.

Malissa Heron is catching gold fish in shoals in New York. The rush for good places is said to be equal to a Stoedel chase.

American steam fire engines are in use in England. Steeple chases have been revived there; one rider has lately broken his neck.

Kossuth and Garibaldi have been hob nobbing in Turin.

Parson Brownlow's visit to Indianapolis netted him $300 exactly.

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE AND ROBBERY.

THE FIELD AFTER THE BATTLE AT PITTSBURG.—The field of battle presented a sorry spectacle. It extended over a distance of five miles in length, and three-quarters of a mile in width. This space was fought over twice in regular battle array, and many times in the fluctuating fortunes of the different portions of the two armies. It was covered with dead and wounded. Where the artillery had taken effect, men lay in heaps, covering rods of ground, mingled in wild masses of mangled horses, broken gun carriages, and all the dread debris of a battle-field. Where our men had made their desperate charges, the bodies lay in rows, as they fell, round the bayonet, constituting at particular points, parapets of flesh and blood, over which a battle-line had been fought as over a breastwork. Not a tree or a sapling in that whole space which was not pierced through and through with cannon shot and musket balls, and if we may believe the accounts, there was scarcely a rod of ground on the five miles which did not have a dead or wounded man upon it.
